What you are supporting when you purchase Tabitha Products

During the communist Khmer Rouge rule from 1975–1979 the Khmer (Cambodian) people were demoralized, starved, forced to work, and tortured. An estimated 1.5 million were killed. Cambodian infrastructure and economy was leveled.

Aware of post regime conditions, Canadian Janne Ritskes chose to move to Cambodia with her life savings and dedicate her time to helping the people in a sustainable way.

In 1994 she was the driving force in founding Tabitha, a Cambodian benevolent trust, with a goal to restore Khmer hope and confidence and enable the poorest of the poor to improve their health, living condition, and lifestyle.

Tabitha's integrated development initiatives include work in health care, education, sanitation (clean water, sewage), housing, small business and co-operatives.

Central to Tabitha is the conviction that work should create a sense of community among the local population. For this purpose, projects always involve instruction from indigenous trainers and managers who teach and lead by example. Each strives to create a healthy, viable community allowing individuals to think, dream, learn, and work to realize their potential.

Since Tabitha's founding, over 1,500,000 Khmer have graduated from poverty through the Savings Program; over 7,000 wells, 200 ponds, 9 schools, and 4,000 houses have been built; and over 10,000 volunteers have traveled from across the globe to Cambodia to help build houses.

Tabitha's newest endeavor is to build Nokor Tep Womens Hospital in Phnom Penh. It will be a place where the 93% of rural women who don't have access to medical care can go for health education, and treatment. (Learn more at nokor-tep.net)

Tabitha financial sustainability is derived partly from silk weaving cottage industry. Silk sales pay for 80% of all administrative costs. Working in Tabitha's Cottage Industry women develop job skills and are paid fair wages allowing them to take care of themselves and their families.
